To Whom It May Concern:

CHRISTIAN KHAI H KWAN

Christian Khai H Kwan came to our firm at the beginning of 2006 to commence his Practical Legal Training (PLT).

I found him to be highly resourceful, diligent and enthusiastic in his quest for knowledge and in carrying out his duties. He has a keen intellect and showed considerable interest in legal research. He was able to apply his knowledge to solve difficult legal issues and often came up with novel solutions from various angles. He has great capacity for work and often read entire lengthy contracts which he would thereafter discuss with me in great detail.

During his PLT, he worked on a variety of matters including property matters, banking transactions, contracts and incorporation of companies. I was able to rely on him to deal with and complete matters in a timely and responsible manner.

Chris got on very well with others in the firm and often helped the paralegals with their work. Whenever he saw that something needed to be done and he had some free time, he would promptly offer his help. He is known for his generous spirit and friendly face around the office.

After completing his PLT with us, Chris left our firm on his own accord to complete his examinations as required for admission as a solicitor in New South Wales. It was a great pleasure to have had him at our firm and we wish him the very best for his future.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss any matter further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours faithfully,
